

RUIN IN ARKANSAS WROUGHT BY WIND

DESTRUCTION BY CYCLONE IN LITTLE ROCK.

The Full Extent of the Loss of Life as Yet Unknown—Commercial Center of the City Almost Wiped Out—Pawnee, Neb., Is Also Swept.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 3.—A terrible cyclone swept over the business portion of this city at 7:40 last night, carrying death and destruction in its path.

Shortly after dark a heavy storm came from the west, accompanied by vivid flashes of lightning and heavy peals of thunder. The skies suddenly cleared and the storm was thought to be over, when suddenly a heavy gale from the southwest appeared, and for three minutes the city was in the throes of death and destruction. So far as can be learned at present four persons are dead and four seriously injured.

The wind was terrific in the extreme. Trees, telegraph, telephone and electric light poles were uprooted and carried a distance of 200 yards. The roofs of thirty of the largest buildings in the city were torn from the houses and hurled against buildings on the opposite side of the streets, leaving the occupants within to the mercy of the drenching rain, which began to fall in torrents shortly afterward.

When the cyclone had ceased it was discovered the residence portion of the city had entirely escaped, but Main street to Third, Markham from Center to Cumberland, and Second from Center to Cumberland were all most total wrecks. This territory covers the principal business portion of the town. The Western Union telegraph office is located in the center of this district. This building was wrecked beyond recognition, the operators who were at work having narrow escapes. At 11 o'clock a message was received from the insane asylum, situated two miles from the city, and the state penitentiary, calling for a corps of physicians and other assistance. It is reliably said a number of patients at the asylum are fatally injured and great damage was done to the buildings. Reports from the penitentiary say six convicts were badly injured by falling timbers, two of whom will die.

Mayor Hall, as soon as possible, called out the entire fire and police departments and sent ten hack loads of physicians and citizens to the insane asylum and penitentiary. Intense excitement prevails and it is utterly impossible to learn the names of the killed and injured. All kinds of exaggerated reports are in circulation. Through the heroic services of Mayor Hall and the chief of police, Frank McMahon, the injured and helpless are receiving the best of attention.

The loss of property alone will amount to at least $1,000,000. The relief corps was sent out at 11 o'clock and up to midnight these are the only reports received at headquarters. The streets are covered with poles, telegraph, telephone, electric light wires, and debris from the wrecked buildings. Six electric street car motors are pinioned on the track on Main street with heavy raftings and poles. These motors are a total loss.

The loss to the buildings and contents at the asylum will reach $125,000. This is considered a conservative estimate. Telegraph operators are scarce in Little Rock. Manager Newton of the Western Union is now at work with a force of men and electricians clearing the debris from the main office. Not a wire is working from that point.

CYCLONE STRIKES FARM HOUSES.

Several People Injured in the Vicinity of Pawnee, Neb.

PAWNEE, Neb., Oct. 3.—A cyclone struck this locality last night. It first touched the farm of John Schuss, near the Kansas line, and unroofed a barn. Then the storm jumped a mile and struck the farm house of John Nelson. This was destroyed and a 9-year-old girl so badly injured that she may die. The next place struck by the cyclone was at the Means farm, where a barn was demolished. Here the storm raised in the air and passed on in a northerly direction. The storm made a path 100 feet in width and came during a hard downpour of rain.

No Loss of Life at Wichita.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 3.—The tornado which played leap frog through the northern part of the city Monday night fortunately confined itself to damaging property and left humanity alone. Not a single fatality accompanied the destruction to property. From here the twister lifted and disappeared to the northwest.

Vermont Legislature Meets.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 3.—The new legislature elected last month assembled yesterday. It is likely to enact a new and more rigid prohibition law, the present measure being a flat failure in the cities and large towns. It will also be called upon to revise the statute laws of the state.

Will Open 100,000 Acres.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Some time this month President Cleveland will issue a proclamation opening to settlement the unallotted lands on the Yankton reservation in South Dakota, containing over 100,000 acres.

BULL KILLS TORTURERS.

Four People Meet Death at a Cruel Exhibition.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—A special dispatch from Zacatecas, Mexico, says: Four persons were killed and many others injured in the little town of Mesquite, in the state of Sakisco, yesterday. Two bulls, both wild and vicious, were turned into the ring at once. To kill these was a task designed to bring all the fighters into action at once. The bulls were soon apparently worn out in their efforts to elude or reach the men who tortured them. Finally one of the bull-fighters was forced to death by one bull while the other broke out of the inclosure and charged among the audience of women, children and men, when three people were killed and a score badly hurt.

FELL FROM A WINDOW.

Dr. Vincenzo Botta Probably Fatally Hurt at New York City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Dr. Vincenzo Botta, a wealthy teacher of languages and one of the vice presidents of the Union League club, was found yesterday under a rear window at his home in West Thirty-seventh street. Four ribs were broken and he had sustained other injuries which render his recovery very doubtful. He was one of the founders of the club and is so old that he has not yet rallied from the shock. Prof. Botta's housekeeper refused to allow him to be removed to the hospital. Prof. Botta is declared to have fallen out of the third story window while suffering from an attack of vertigo, to which he was subject.

BOTH MEN KILLED.

Horrible Double Tragedy Near Mount Vernon—Preacher and Farmer Fight.

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Oct. 3.—A horrible double murder occurred south of here last night. A preacher named Hullett, who lives near Centralia, Ill., was on his way, with his wife and 18-year-old son, to Tennessee. They camped on the farm of James Scott, and the latter ordered them to move. They refused and in the row which followed Hullett was shot dead and Scott was so badly hurt that he died this morning. An inquest is now being held.

"LONG FELT WANT" TO BE PLUGGED UP

JANESVILLE HASN'T NEWS-PAPERS ENOUGH THEY SAY.

Therefore the Populists Are Working Up a Scheme to Put Another Venture on the Market to Compete With Republican, Democratic, A. P. A. and Other Publications.

Did you know that a "long felt" want is growing in our midst?

You didn't?

Well, there is and its maw is like unto that of the snappy crocodile.

Its a newspaper want. That sounds strange, for Janesville would seem to be already well supplied. The town has republican, democratic, A. P. A. tobacco and German newspapers as well as a druggists' monthly not to speak of several religious journals.

That list would seem to be large enough to suit the whole populace.

But the "want" still grows.

Its a populist cavity, and as usual it covers everything from shingle nails to baled hay.

W. H. Parker, who for years was employed by the late Garrett Vedder, and of late in business for himself, is the prime mover in the scheme.

F. M. Goodwin, the freight inspector, who took such a lively interest in the establishment of the Republican, is said to be working up the subscription list. The Gazette wishes them well; the more the merrier; and hopes that the brass beaked buzzard of "busted" business will not perch upon the ruins as soon as it has on half a dozen similar ventures.

HOW FARMERS FARED THIS YEAR.
Last of the Crop Reports Lists Hay and Grain as Fair Crops.

The weather during the past week has been clear and pleasant with temperature for the most part above the normal and no rain to speak of. Farm work has advanced rapidly under the most favorable conditions. Threshers are generally through work. Fall plowing is well along, though in some sections of the state the ground is still too dry to be worked to the best advantage. Still much plowing has been done and fall seeding is about completed.

The usual acreage of winter grain has been sown. Considerable rye has been sown to plow under next summer for potatoes. A great deal of timothy has been sown and is coming up rapidly.

Corn is being husked and is yielding about one-half an average crop.

A severe frost on the 25th put an end to potato growth, and they are now dry; the crop is the most uneven ever known, but is generally better than was expected.

The condition of the pastures and fall feed was never better at this season of the year, a rank growth of grass being reported in the south half of the state.

The cranberry crop is really a failure. The correspondent in Juneau county says: "Total harvest of cranberries in this section is only 200 bushels against 30,000 last year."

The season as a whole has been an average one to the Wisconsin farmer in respect to hay and grains, and a poor one for other products, caused by the drought in July and August, the effects of which were particularly severe on the corn, potatoes and cranberry crops.

RAISED THE STEAMER ENTERPRISE

Two Sets of Tackles Brought the Craft Safely To Shore.

Captain Buchholz' steamer, the Enterprise, was raised at 7 o'clock last night. To-day she steamed down the river as good as new. W. E. Dillon worked all day yesterday to raise the craft. The stern lay in ten feet of water while the bow, which pointed toward shore, was in water deep enough to cover the wheel. Dillon set up a pair of shears supporting a tackle block over the stern, the timbers resting on the bottom of the river. He passed a rope under the boat and carried another line from the bow to a tackle block on shore. Raising the boat by means of the shears and tackle he gradually worked her into shallow water where the break could be repaired. A new plank replaced the one splintered by the snag and the boat is now as seaworthy as ever.

Overcoats 50 Cents on the S.

Last year's overcoats that sold for ten dollars, we will match this year for five; twelve dollar ones for six; and fifteen dollar ones for eight. One of these would feel very comfortable today. In suits we can sell you a suit for $6.75 that you would have thought cheap last year at $12; and we have some elegant new browns at $10 to $15. In fact, we cannot give here the list of prices; you can see on the eighth page. Pickwick suits, Poole, Paddock and Chesterfield overcoats still hold their lead.

A Warning.
With a careless gesture he brushed the long hair away from his brow, and gazed abstractedly across the sunlit ocean.

"What are the wild waves saying," he murmured, "sister, the whole day long?"

The tall girl at his side started violently, and darted a quick glance into his face.

"Mr. Codliver," she said abruptly, after a moment's thought; "have you ever asked me to be your wife?"

He shook his head.

"That was my impression," she observed; "but the way you spoke made me uncertain just for an instant."—Puck.

Sociable Neighbors.

Not long since Col. Yerger, of Austin moved into a new house. About a week ago Gilhooly, meeting him, asked him how he liked his new location.

"The location is all right."

"Are the neighbors sociable?"

"Very."

"Have they called on you yet?"

"I think so; but I was not at home."

"You ought to return the call. They are very nice people."

"Yes, I'm going to return their calls if there is one more stick of firewood missing."—Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

Reasoning by Comparison.

She—Here I read in the paper that if the forces employed by women in lacing their stays and buttoning the boots could be condensed it would more than suffice to drive all the machinery in the factories and the railway engines in the whole of Germany.

He—Good gracious! Why, then the concentrated power of their tongues would be capable of lifting the earth off its hinges!—Westfälischer Kurier.

Fence Unnecessary.

In an Exeter (N. H.) town meeting the question of building a new fence about a burying ground was considered. Judge Jeremiah Smith opposed it.

"What is the need, Mr. Moderator," said he, "of a new fence about such a place? Those who are outside have no desire to get in, and those who are inside cannot get out."—Green Bag.

Money In It.

"There isn't any money to be made out of the races," sighed Chappie, who had just backed the losing horse.

"Yes, there, is," said a stranger at his elbow. "I run a French, German, English and Irish intelligence office, and it pays good money."—Harper's Bazar.

Hbr Idea of It.

He—How much did you give for that hat?

She—Twenty-five dollars.

He—Great Caesar! I only pay five for mine.

She—That may be, my dear; but I'm sure I should not object if you gave twenty-five.—Detroit Free Press.

So Bright.

May—Are you still calling on Nellie Update?

Brother Jack—Yes; she's a very bright girl.

May—She must be. I hear you don't need a light in the parlor when you and she are there.—Philadelphia Record.

Wrung from His Soul.

"O come off!"

It was the appealing, horror-struck, heart-broken outcry of a strong man in agony.

Mr. Kajones had seen his daughter, Laura, for the first time riding her bicycle in red bloomers.—Chicago Tribune.

Love's Silent Interchange.

Friend—How did the count propose to you, and you accept, if he could not understand your language nor you his?

American Heiress—It was very simple. He showed me his family tree and I showed him my bankbook.—N. Y. Weekly.

Foiled Again.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"

"Digging for clams, kind sir," she said.

"Can I go with you, my pretty maid?"

"But you're already dug," she said.

PRAYING FOR SELF-CONTROL.

Marie—I tell yer yer are false! Trused to the marrer of yer hart! I've trusted you blindly, fondly, until the present moment, and now I loath and despise yer!

Eleurette—Heaven give me power to restrain myself or I'll knock the neck off her!—Life.

CITY FIRE LIMITS MAY BE EXTENDED

ALL PLATTED PROPERTY MAY BE EMBRACED.

At Any Rate Aldermen Are In Favor of an Extension, the Burning of the Wilcox Property Having Led to Action—Mayor Thoroughgood's View.

It is reasonably sure that the common council will put the two blocks south of Court street and between Main and the river in the city fire limits. While this is being done the entire city might as well be included. No hardships would result from such an ordinance. Nearly all cities have such an ordinance. Outside of the fire proof district property owners are required only to file plans of their proposed building improvements, and obtain a building permit. This course gives city officials better information and statistics relating to improvements and new buildings, and would prevent the construction of dangerous or hazardous buildings in the city at any point, as the council would have the power to withhold the permit. Whatever is done it is certain that the fire limits will be greatly enlarged. Some insist that at least one block all around the present limits should be included in the fire proof district. Mayor Thoroughgood will present the matter to the council, but just what action will be taken is not determined.

Are You Getting Bald?

If you are becoming bald or should your hair be falling out, you should at once consult a first class specialist, one who has had years of experience in training the hair. Or if your hair should be falling out or should nature have slighted you, you owe it to yourself to attend to it at once. Professor Birkholz, the well renowned hair specialist, 1011 Masonic Temple, where he may be consulted free of charge and in private. After a thorough examination, which will cost you nothing, he will explain your case, and should you be satisfied, he will treat you upon a guarantee to cure or ask no pay. Call or write Professor Birkholz, 1011 Masonic Temple Chicago.

Send him this notice to any first-class druggist and he will get the remedy for you at once, if he has not got it in stock.

They Must Not Look Old.

Hair-dyeing is becoming general among the laboring people of England—not from motives of vanity, but under the spur of necessity. Working-women, and even men, it appears, are given to decorating themselves in this way as a matter of necessity, and in order to earn their living. Gray hair looks aged, and suggests inefficiency; or perhaps it does not, for some other reason, satisfy the fancy of critical customers, consequently it is not in favor with employers. Hair-dyeing has therefore become an established custom among persons seeking employment.

Interlined "Celluloid" Collars and Cuffs turn water like a duck's back and show neither spot nor soil. They are not effected by perspiration, and always look as if right out of the box. When they get soiled you can clean them in a minute by simply wiping off with a wet cloth. These are but a few of the advantages of wearing the "Celluloid" Collars and Cuffs. There are many others that you will readily discover the first time you wear one.

KINDERGARTENS FOR PARENTS.

A Place Wanted Where They May Learn the Rudiments of Common Sense.

Among the numerous educational institutions of which this country, and indeed the world, are in need, is a grownup kindergarten to which parents may be sent to learn the rudiments of common sense and the simple laws of cause and effect that, it would seem, must naturally be patent to the meanest intelligence. If the father is selfish and fault finding at home, he has no right to expect his sons, with his example constantly before them, to be helpful and good humored. If the mother practices deceit and equivocation, she should not condemn her daughters for not being truthful and sincere. Why should a man who reads aloud and discusses in the presence of his boys the police news and reports of the details of murders and executions punish them for devouring dime novels or other sensational fiction? Why should a woman who customarily adopts a scolding and complaining tone reproach her girls for not being cheerful and contented?

Parents have no right to expect a spontaneous development of goodness in a child. If, with all the advantages of age, experience and mastery of the situation they habitually do things they ought not to do, how is the child, ignorant, dependent and with their conduct as its constant model, to habitually do right? The peevish voice, the deceitful word, the selfish act, the ungoverned temper, are an almost irresistible influence beside which mere commands and penalties are futile. Children have a keen sense of injustice, and when they are punished for a fault that their parents commit with impunity the good and sufficient reason given for the latter's exemption from the general law—"I am your father," or "I am your mother," does not seem a good and sufficient reason to the victims of arbitrary home legislation, or even to the unprejudiced observer. Mere parenthood does not imply infallibility. There is, unfortunately, no natural law which precludes persons entirely unfit for the responsibility from having children and misgoverning them. If you want your sons and daughters to be gentle, generous, truthful and broad minded, live up to that standard yourself.

A sketch is given of a gown of flowered muslin trimmed with lace insertion and green ribbon.

PERSONAL CRITICISM.

Candid Friends and the Weaker Side of Humanity.

Few men or women are strong enough to endure adverse criticism, says a wis- observer. The desire for praise is universal. The candid friend is a nuisance therefore, and the harm she does will never be known until the secrets of all hearts are revealed. Most of us want helping and cheering along the uphill road. The world outside is too busy and hurried to heed our individual concerns, and if we cannot rely upon our friends for the meat of encour- agement and for the oil and wine of sym- pathy we are in hard case indeed. But the candid friend has no regard for the weaker side of humanity. "Why should I not speak the truth?" she argues. "It may wound, but it is my duty to set you right concerning this and that." And she goes about the world performing her self imposed task to her own satisfaction and everybody else's hurt. Perhaps the glass at which you look less frequently day by day no longer shows you a satisfactory reflection. Your hair is becoming thin; your eyes lack luster; you have lost a tooth or two; you are growing stout. You are perfectly conscious of these trifles. They annoy you, and you are glad to think of them as little as possible, but unfortunately your candid friend knows them, too, and she lets you know that she knows them. You smile amiably at her as you shake hands in farewell, but there is rage and resentment in your heart. Only a small wound to your vanity, after all. Granted, my candid friend, but it is not necessary to go through the world sticking pins into people, be those ever so tiny and the tissue into which you insert them ever so adipose. Sincerity is not synonymous with brutality, and it is possible to ignore unpleasant facts without the aid of false- hood or deceit.

The sketch shows a gold colored straw sailor hat trimmed with moss green velvet twisted about the crown. A small bunch of yellow chrysanthemums forms a bow on the right side, while the left is trimmed with an erect spray of the same flowers mingled with mignonette and yellow and terra cotta roses, with their foliage.

Not Fluctuating or Spasmodic.

This store grows day by day in its value to the shoppers of Janesville and vicinage for scores of miles around, because it is governed by a few tried and true principles to which we steadily adhere.

FIRST—The goods must be right to be permitted within our doors.

SECOND—The goods must be here when advertised.

THIRD—The goods must be square in all respects with the advertisement.

FOURTH—Nothing must be said in any advertisement that is not true through and through.

FIFTH—The prices must be down to the bottom always.

It makes no difference what others say about goods or what others get for them. At this store the aim is straight for one point, viz:---To get the best and give it at the right rate---as low or lower than any other house in the city. Anything short of the top in

HARD ON HARPER'S WEEKLY.

It must grind Harper's Weekly, which did so much to make converts for democracy to be forced to say:

"This much is certain, that for the first time in the history of the country a single monopoly, audacious insolent and confessedly corrupt has succeeded in defeating to congress a law affecting the general welfare, the revenues of the government, and the tariff policy of the country. And for this consummation the democratic party is responsible."

ANSWER IS FILED.

Carlisle's Answer to the Bounty Suit of Louisiana Planters.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Secretary Carlisle and Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller yesterday filed in the Supreme court of the district their answer to the application of the Miles Planting and Manufacturing company of Louisiana for a writ of mandamus to compel the respondents to resume and continue the official inspection of cane sugar production. The respondents aver there is no law of the United States authorizing or requiring the performance of the acts asked for; that there is no appropriation from which the expense of such inspection can be paid, and that there is no law of the United States authorizing the payment of any bounty. Oral arguments on the application for a writ of mandamus will be heard by the court next Thursday.

SIT DOWN ON HESING.

Chicago Letter Carriers Will Not Parade Next Sunday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The postal employees of Chicago will not parade next Sunday. A letter putting a stop to the preparations and forbidding the parade is now being prepared in the post-office department, and unless Acting Postmaster-General Jones' mind undergoes a change the communication will be mailed at once. This news will doubtless be a disappointment to Mr. Hessing. He always goes into everything with such a sweeping, rushing, whole-hearted enthusiasm that the thwarting of his pent-up feeling. But the department can't help that. It regrets exceedingly that the matter was brought to its attention. But having come up, it has taken it by the horns, so to speak, and wrestled with it according to its judgment.

Ex-Premier Mercier Slowly Sinking.

MONTREAL, Oct. 3.—Ex-Premier Mercier continues his hold upon life and the vitality he is displaying is, in the opinion of the doctors, simply wonderful, as the medical men predicted that he would be dead days ago. The premier is gradually but surely losing strength and last night had a very bad attack of weakness which his family believed indicated the end. He, however, rallied and at midnight is resting easily.

JOHN SHERMAN.

So Absent-Minded That He Could Not Remember a Familiar Name.

There is many a man who has felt himself aggrieved that Senator John Sherman was unable to remember him or to call him by name. It is a faculty the lack of which seriously handicaps a man in public life. But the fact of his forgetting a man's name is no evidence in John Sherman's case of his wanting in esteem for the forgotten one. In a recent speech he paused confusedly when he wanted to refer to something that had been said by "Mr.—Mr.—my neighbor on my left—the senator from Massachusetts." Senator Aldrich, sitting just behind him, suggested Hoar. Sherman and Hoar have been associated in public life for an indefinite number of years. They are friends and what may be termed intimate acquaintances. The Sherman and the Hoar families are related. Yet the senator from Ohio was made to come out of the absorption in his subject in which he was invested to call the name of Senator Hoar.

It is related as a fact of a wealthy old resident of a Western town that he wandered all over the town in a fit of profound abstraction one morning. Some one stopped him to say, "Good morning, Mr. Hayden."

The old fellow looked up excitedly and exclaimed: "That's it! That's it! I've been trying to think of that name all morning, and I couldn't sign a check at the bank."

Forgetfulness of names is not an unusual peculiarity among men, but it is a fatal lack in a man who seeks popularity with the masses of the people.

Likely to Abolish the Rebates.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 3.—The directors of the whisky trust had a comparatively quiet day of it yesterday. There is strong reason for the belief that the directors will listen to the clamor of the distributors and abolish the rebate system. John S. Stevens, the trust attorney, while thinking the rebate system will be abolished, says all the outstanding rebates will be paid in full, for they are secured by two and a half million bonds deposited in New York. The amount of outstanding rebates is estimated in the neighborhood of $2,000,000.

Czarowitz Will Act as Regent.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 3.—It is now reported that the imperial family, with the exception of Grand Duke George and the czarowitz, will pass the winter at Corfu, one of the Ionian islands, for czar's health. The czarowitz will not go to Darmstadt to visit his intended wife, Princess Alix, as previously proposed. He will be appointed regent during his father's absence from Russia.

Notice To Coal Dealers.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned city clerk of the city of Janesville, for furnishing the city of Janesville with twenty-four tons of coal, as follows: Twenty tons range coal for engine houses, to be delivered as ordered by the chief engineer. Four tons No. 4 coal for city hall. All coal to be weighed on F. S. Murdock's scales and tickets left with the city clerk on delivery of coal. The council reserves the right to reject any and all bids. By order of the common council. GEO. H. BATES, City Clerk.

CAPT. VANKIRK NOT A CANDIDATE

His Business Interests and Campaign Work Are Too Pressing.

Captain W. T. Vankirk sends the following communication to the Gazette, which explains itself:

To the republican voters of the Third assembly district; my name having been frequently mentioned as a possible candidate for the assembly, I beg leave to state that I am not a candidate, as business interests and campaign work will not admit of it at this time. Thanking the many friend who have tendered their support and trusting at some future time to repay them, I am respectfully,

W. T. VANKIRK.

ROHKRAMER FOUND LYING SICK

Helpless on the Street He Was, So They Took Him Home.

Bernard Rohkramer, 128 Glen street, was found sick and helpless on South Main street, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, and was taken to his home in a carriage. He is quite an old man and is subject to sinking spells.

DEAD BOY'S SUIT SOLD FOR LIQUOR

THE GHASTLY CHARGE MADE AGAINST MULCAIRNS.

His Mother Says That He Stole the Clothing of His Deceased Brother and Bartered Them for Whisky—Asked for a Warrant for His Arrest.

It was an unnatural and ghastly charge that Mrs. Mulcairns made against her son Patrick, in the municipal court this afternoon. It was that he had stolen his dead brother's clothes and sold them for whisky.

"Patrick is a wicked boy," he said. "You see, sir, he spends all the money for whisky, and when he is out of jail he is raising Cain with everything. Last night he came home drunk, sir, and he took the clothes of my poor boy that has been dead two years, coming March, and he took them away, he did, and sold them to get whisky. I would not part with the clothes of my dead boy for ten dollars, and I want to have my boy Patrick arrested and put in jail."

Clerk Williams listened to her story most intently and finally interrupted her by saying that she would have to see the district attorney, and make a complaint charging her son with larceny.

"Indeed it is not larceny, but Patrick never comes in except he is drunk or hungry," she said.

The officers say that Mrs. Mulcairns calls a good many times to get a warrant for Patrick but when the trial is on she invariably refuses to testify against him.

THE ROCK BROKEN.

Plenty of People Will Be On the Stage Tonight.

Under difficulties and with obstructions piled high about him, Dr. Flint is working in Janesville. He has come without bringing a "subject." What he wants is twenty men whom Janesville people know, that he may demonstrate that he can perform the feats he says he can. Subjects are hard to get, however. Before a packed house the doctor stood for an hour last night vainly trying to get someone to come forward. One at a time they struggled up until seven men had seats on the platform.

"The per cent of people that I can work on," the doctor said, "is one in ten so you see I have seven-tenths of a subject."

Two of the seven men were somewhat susceptible, but neither was a "good subject." The stone breaking act was done as a closing feature. Dr. Flint explained that he was not going to use any subject who traveled with him and that if twenty people would volunteer, he would give a two hours entertainment.

There is likely to be no difficulty in getting subjects tonight however. On the first two nights Dr. Flint refused to take telegraph students as subjects. He was anxious to get men more generally known and who would be recognized as having no connection with the show. As business men have not volunteered, however, the doctor has issued a special invitation to the students, and this evening he is likely to have a full house.

DOLAN STOOD GUARD WITH THE AX

Thought Burglars Were at Work But They May Have Been Boys.

Peter Dolan stood guard at his window last night with an ax. He was aroused from his sleep at 2 o'clock this morning by a noise at the window. He grabbed his ax and posted himself at the window, ready to strike as the intruders entered. They were prying open a side window to Mr. Dolan's saloon on West Milwaukee street, and he was quietly watching their progress. Suddenly a pane of glass broke, making considerable noise as it fell to the floor. This frightened the intruders away, and after securely fastening the window, Mr. Dolan retired, expecting their return, but they did not come.

"They were 'patch boys,'" said Patrolman Hogan, this morning. "I drove them out of a barn in the patch, about 1 o'clock this morning. I heard of them early in the evening. They were prowling about the 'five points' but so far as I have heard no depredations were committed. I think this was the gang who visited Dolan's and perhaps all they were after was a drink."

Mrs. Minerva Brace Norton.

Mrs. David Jeffries this morning received a telegram from Beloit, announcing the death of Mrs. Minerva Brace Norton which occurred this morning. Mrs. Norton was the author of several books which gained her a national reputation, and was an intimate friend of Frances Willard who was with her when she died. Mrs. Norton and Miss Willard were formerly Janesville girls and they wrote the biography of Miss Willard's mother together. Mrs. Norton had many Bower City friends who will be saddened at her demise.

Mary Jane Jirus.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jirus, town of Harmony, mourn the death of their little daughter, Mary Jane, who died last night of cholera infantum aged two months. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's church on Friday, the hour not being named. The interment will be in Mount Olivet.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS WARNED.

Swindler Working This Way with Forged Sick Benefit Orders.

Stewart A. Chase, chancellor commander of Oriental Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias, has been notified to look out for a clever swindler, who has been defrauding lodges in the east, and who is supposed to have come west. The swindler is a member of the order and broke into the office of the keeper of records and seals of Wamesit Lodge, Lowell, Mass., and stole one hundred blank sick benefit orders. These he stamped with the seal of the lodge, and filling them in with fictitious and forged names, presented them to other lodges for payment. The different lodges honor such orders, and in cashing the orders for twenty dollars each the swindler secured nearly $1,000 before being detected. He uses the names of J. B. Reed, E. W. Hall, J. B. Howard, A. A. Wright and Charles B. Sherman as beneficiaries. The description sent out is of a man five feet seven inches, dark complexion, and of good address. All Knights of Pythias are warned of the swindle, and requested to apprehend the man if possible.

WINDOW FULL OF DAINTY HATS

Many Ladies Attracted By Millinery Display at Reid & Co's.

No wonder the ladies took the south side of Milwaukee street bridge when they crossed this morning. Archie Reid & Co. were furnishing a show not to be excelled for taste and style in the average metropolitan store. This year the favorite colors in millinery were bright and the effect of the Reid window is of kaleidoscopic brilliancy. The two novelties this fall are bluette and ceresee, the latter a peculiarly rich shade, not far removed from ruby. A combination of ceresee and slate on one of the pattern hats shows how effective it is bound to be.

Jet will be worn much this fall. The buckles, clasps and sprays of gleaming black that Reid & Co. show furnish an effective contrast to the warm tones of the velvets and silks. The window is so arranged as to be especially attractive at night, lighting up very well. Many will be tempted to stroll down this evening merely for a sight at the tempting confections which are on view.

ETHEL A WINS A HOT AND FAST RACE

Time Won Fast Enough to Threaten The Three Year Old Record.

Ethel A, the pretty little Adrian Wilkes filly whom all Janesville horsemen will remember, won a good race at Chillicothe, Ohio, yesterday. The best time was 2:10 which shows that she is capable of cutting the pacing record for the age which is now divided between herself and Whirligig at 2:10.

Vera Capelle, the Wilton pacer that T. J. Dunbar has developed into a 2:11 performer, started at Chillicothe, yesterday, but could get but seventh place, although she was third once in 2:08. Kissell's Dallas, who was in the free-for-all here, also contested and got two pegs higher in the sum mary than Vera.

Winnie H. and Bron Rogers, two horses that competed here last month met at Fulton, Ill., yesterday. Winnie had won a heat and Rogers was tail ender when the race was postponed on account of darkness.

BAD JAMES SEARS SENT TO JAIL

Judge Bennett Sentences a Man Who Made a Brutal Assault.

Judge John R. Bennett sentenced James Sears today to pay a fine of $300 and costs, or serve a term of six months in the county jail. Sears chose the latter. He is the man who attempted a criminal assault on a little girl near Lake Mills about a month ago and was tried at Jefferson.

SHOT BY A TRAMP IN A TOUGH HOUSE

BELOIT PEOPLE HAVE A SENSATION ON HAND.

Party of Half a Dozen, Some of Them Society Favorites Visit a Place Across the Line, Become Involved in a Quarrel Which a Bullet Ended—Story Kept Quiet.

Beloit has a good sized sensation to talk over just at present. A party of half a dozen young men, some of them in high standing in society circles went over the line for a "time" and after visiting two places of questionable repute, became involved in a quarrel, and in a scuffle a tramp visitor drew his pistol and fired, the ball passing through the hip of a young man who has decided to remain housed up for some time in order that he may not disclose his identity. Dr. Johnson was summoned and after probing extracted the bullet. The papers withheld the name of the young man, but it gives the gossips all the opportunity to talk that they could desire.

LADIES AID SOCIETY ELECTION.

First M. E. Organization Named Their Rulers Yesterday Afternoon.

Officers of the Ladies Aid Society of the First M. E. church were elected yesterday as follows:

Mrs. A. H. Shekey, president. Mrs. Dunwiddie, vice president. Mrs. A. W. Hall, secretary. Mrs. E. J. Bennett, treasurer.

Rosseter-Preller.

Charles G. Rosseter of Chicago, and Miss Louise M. Preller, were quietly married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Preller, 118 Milton avenue. After the wedding feast had been spread Mr. and Mrs. Rosseter left at once for Chicago which place will be their home, the groom being engaged in business there. Many friends will wish them full measure of happiness.

PICTURESQUE FIGURE IN WESTERN POLITICS.

Was a Friend and Supporter of Lincoln—In Former Years He Had Followed the Standard of Andrew Jackson.

AMUEL JORDAN Kirkwood, the war governor of Iowa, who recently passed away, was born Dec. 20, 1812, and was therefore the senior of Andrew G. Curtin, Pennsylvania's old war governor, by four years. Now that Kirkwood is dead, Gov. Curtin is the only war governor surviving the notable conference of loyal governors which met in Altoona, Pa., in 1863 for the purpose of securing the recall of Gen. George B. McClellan. "The proceedings of this conference," says H. W. Lathrop, director of the Iowa Historical society and a bosom friend of Gov. Kirkwood, "were curiously enough never reported to the press. The meeting was held with closed doors. Gov. Kirkwood was selected as spokesman for the loyal governors, and assigned the task of suggesting to President Lincoln the wisdom and necessity of recalling McClellan. The reasons advanced for so doing are of course familiar. It is said the President flushed at the conclusion of Kirkwood's remarks, but recovering his composure replied: 'Governor, if I thought the removal of McClellan would advance the Union cause, he would be removed by tomorrow night.' The convention resulted in the removal of McClellan in the following November."

Another story is told of Kirkwood's relations with Lincoln which well illustrates the friendliness between the two. In 1853 Kirkwood was given the gubernatorial nomination by the whigs and was pitted against A. C. Dodge. The campaign which followed marked the most bitter and closest political struggle ever waged in Iowa. Lincoln, shortly after the beginning of the canvass, made a trip to Kansas City. Returning by way of Council Bluffs, he stopped off at the city, and made an earnest appeal to its citizens in behalf of Kirkwood. Kirkwood returned the compliment by his services in the convention which subsequently nominated Lincoln for the Presidency. Iowa was strong for Lincoln; Ohio wavered. To Kirkwood's influence with the Ohio and other delegations was due the nomination of Lincoln.

Kirkwood was originally a Jackson democrat, and voted for Franklin Pierce. Before leaving Ohio in 1855, the democrats wanted to run him for congress on the free soil platform. Kirkwood, however, declined, and abandoning his law practice and the state of Ohio, began life again in Iowa City, where he engaged in farming, milling and general merchandise. He still found it difficult to leave the law and shortly formed a partnership with Ezekiel Clark. In conjunction with Clark he purchased 1,300 acres of land near Coralville, two miles north of Iowa City, on the Iowa river. On this land the familiar Coralville mill stands, which, on account of its connection with Kirkwood, has become a spot of much historic interest.

MRS. S. J. KIRKWOOD.

As a politician, Kirkwood was a constitutional failure. Says Mr. Lathrop: "He was the poorest politician I ever knew. Still he had the reputation among his political opponents of being a shrewd schemer. But, as a matter of fact, Kirkwood could not lay a scheme deep enough to elect an alderman in a third rate town. He would not stoop to that kind of business. He was the most truly honorable man it has ever been my fortune to meet. He hated corruption and surreptitious methods. For example: At one time during his candidacy for the senate there was talk of running James Harlan against him. In course of the contest a letter was secured by the republican central committee which was derogatory to Harlan and the publication of which would greatly advance Kirkwood's canvass. The question arose in a committee meeting whether the letter should be used in the canvass. Some of Kirkwood's friends Kirkwood never received a college education. He was, however, given a good classical education at his home in Maryland and later at Gen. Mead's academy in Washington, D. C. While in Washington he aided in the organization of a debating school to which, in after years, he attributed his inspiration to become a public speaker.

Gov. Kirkwood's last political canvass was made in 1886, when he was called upon by his party to run against O'Meara, union-labor candidate, and Walter L. Hayes, the democratic nominee and present representative of Iowa. Kirkwood was at the time 75 years of age and did not wish to accept the nomination, although the importunities of his party finally forced him to do so. He was defeated, however, O'Meara receiving 8,692 votes; Hayes, 15,270. Kirkwood received 8,000. The immediate cause of his defeat was the endorsement of the union labor candidate by members of his own party.

In a quiet country spot in the outskirts of Iowa City the old governor retired from the scenes which filled so large a chapter in his life. Gov. Kirkwood's adopted son, S. Kirkwood Clark, died in St. Louis in 1883 from a wound received in his leg at the battle of Arkansas post. He was a great

MOTHER OF BLOOMERS.

The Woman After Whom the Garment Was Christened.

Mrs. Amelia Bloomer, after whom the garment known as the bloomer costume was christened, resides with her husband in Council Bluffs, their residence to-day being the one in which they took up their abode forty years ago, when Council Bluffs was a somewhat straggling village of 300. Mrs. Bloomer, now 76 years old, carries her years easily. She has been married fifty-four years. It was in 1851 that she began to wear the costume which is now known throughout the English speaking world as the bloomer. She was then living at Seneca Falls, N. Y., where she published a temperance paper called the Lily. In addition to being a prohibition advocate the paper also devoted considerable space to the subject of woman suffrage. A Mrs. Miller, who in 1851 paid a visit to Seneca Falls, appeared in the bifurcated dress, and Mrs. Bloomer published a description of it. She and Elizabeth Cady Stanton adopted the style and advocated its general adoption.

A Rush for the Horse Show.

Some notion of the importance which the horse show holds in the hearts of a large number of Americans may be gathered from the fact that the Brunswick and Waldorf hotels have practically refused to accept any guests during the horse show week. Every room in these big hotels has been spoken for, and the Waldorf goes so far as to announce that it will not undertake to serve dinners or luncheons, aside from those already scheduled during the entire week of the exhibition. This announcement has, of course, started a mad rush to these hotels, as the public dearly loves to crowd in where there is said to be no room. The time for the horse show is still some distance away, but it is as generally talked about as if it were to take place next month. It is evident that the four-in-hand competitions will be a feature of the show. The gossip over the four-in-hand contest at Philadelphia has not yet dwindled out, and the extraordinary coaching season of last year has spurred the drivers of fours into such unusual activity that the number of entries is sure to be double that of last year.

An ordinance to prevent injury to streets.

The mayor and common council of the city of Janesville do ordain as follows:
Section 1. It shall not be lawful for any person or corporation who may be authorized to make any excavation in any street of this city of Janesville, that is now, or may hereafter be paved with wooden block pavement, to cut or break any board or boards upon which such block pavements may be placed; and in every instance where any excavation may be made in such streets, such boards shall be taken up and replaced in their entire length.
Section 2. Any person or corporation that violates any of the provisions of this ordinance shall pay a penalty of not less than ten dollars, nor more than fifty dollars.
Section 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication, which publication shall be for three consecutive days.

Clergymen's Marriages.

Marriage seems a great failure in the case of curates. One of them writes of the sad lot of his class as follows: "When vicars in charge of fashionable suburban parishes insist on having only young and unmarried curates it may, in the opinion of mere worldly men, be very nice for girls, but it is very good for the church? Why do married vicars invariably advertise for unmarried curates? Are their own marriages all failures? My case is a common one. I am accurate and want work. But I am too old, being no less than 37 years of age, and I am married, so, of course, must stand aside. That I have enough income to live on is lucky for me, but does not alter the case. My father served as curate nearly all his life, and I thought I might at least be permitted to do the same; but the action of the bishops in ordaining men wholesale during the last twenty-five years has enabled the majority of vicars to reject all who, like myself, are old or married, and so we are left in the sad position of your humble servant, who signs himself

OUT OF WORK."

BRIEF BITS OF HUMOR.

Mr. B. (returning late from the club and surprised to find his wife at home) — Why, Mary, I expected that your jury would be locked up over night. "It did look like it, John. There were ten of the most obstinate men on it I ever met. They wouldn't listen to a word of reason." "But you brought them over to your side at last?" "Indeed we did. Mrs. Lilywhite had a fit of hysterics and I think that convinced them how wrong they were." — Judge.

A Wonderful Country.

A prominent Texas politician, who has just been appointed to a fat office, was bragging to a crowd of friends a few days ago on the streets of Dallas. "Gentlemen," he said, "do you know that I was born on the very day that Thomas Jefferson died?" "This is a wonderful country," remarked one of his friends. "There is no limit to its recuperative powers. Just think of it surviving two such disasters, and how true it is misfortunes never come singly." — Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

How She Got Her Tan.

My girl had come home from vacation. Her skin was burned brown as could be. "I hope you have not been a tomboy," I said, as she dozed on my knee. "You're no longer a schoolgirl, my darling. You must cultivate grace and repose. Did you read those good books that I sent you?" But here she turned up her dear nose. "I met a nice fellow from Boston." She said, "a most cultured young man. We devoted our days unto 'Browning.' And that's how I got this fine tan." — N. Y. Herald.

Exercise Enough.

Blinks—By the way, Winks, the doctor advised you to use dumb-bells, didn't he? Winks—Yes, and I must see about getting a pair. "Well, I have a pair you can have." "Tired of them?" "Don't need 'em. The twins are teething." — N. Y. Weekly.

Changed His Tune.

"Could you give a poor man a little assistance or find him some employment?" "You can have some work on the spot. I have a heap of wood yonder." "Hum!—ah, yes. I'll send you the man directly. It's not for myself I am seeking a job, but for a friend of mine." — Leshalle.

Singular.

Paul—I don't see anything so very funny about your mustache. Mr. Toots—What do you mean? Paul—I heard sister tell you last night that it tickled her half to death. — N. Y. World.

Quips That Pass in the Daytime.

"I hope I'm not entirely unwelcome," said the disagreeable man, thrusting his head in at the door. "Because if I am, you know, I'll come oftener." — Chicago Tribune.

A Specious Phrase.

Mrs. Norris—What does this paper mean when it says: "The reasons which induced the company to take this step are obvious?" Mr. Norris—It means that the reporter couldn't find out. — Puck.

His Choice.

Miss Keyes—What make of piano would you advise me to buy? Van Pelt—Why don't you wait a little? They are making improvements every day, and maybe they'll get up some noiseless variety. — Town Topics.

Female Sympathy.

"Do you know, Miss, that young Schinderhannes has been sentenced to ninety-nine years imprisonment?" "Poor fellow," sighed the young lady, "he will have to wait so long before he can marry." — Alex. Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

AN EXCEPTION.

Mrs. Norris—Oh, I think men always have the best of it in this world. Mr. Norris—Sometimes. But not when they argue with their wives. — Brooklyn Life.

Decided at Last.

Jack (who has proposed)—It strikes me it takes you a long time to decide. Daisy—I know. And I've concluded to wear a demi-train of white chiffon over white silk, and to have no bridesmaids. — Answers.

"Music Hath Power."

"Were you moved by her music?" "Yes; it amounted to that. I think we should have kept the flat for another year if it hadn't been for her." — Puck.

An Heiress.

"That fortune teller must have thought I was an heiress." "Why, dear?" "She said I was to marry a poet and live happily ever afterward." — Indianapolis Journal.

Quite Different.

She—He is a poet, isn't he? He—Oh, no. He writes verses for the leading magazines. — Judge.

You Bet They Would.

She—Boys will be boys. He—So will the girls, if they could. — Life.

Barroom Philosophy.

"Truly," said Witticus, when he saw ox tail soup and tongue on the free lunch counter, "extremes meet." — Life.

A Reversal of Natural Laws.

A lawyer by the name of Mayne, who was a highly respected but decidedly heavy person, had risen to a judgeship, while Jeffrey Keller, who had entered on his legal career at about the same time with Mayne, but was more noted as a wit than as a lawyer, was still much in want of clients and fees. The latter was in a court-room one day, when Mayne was solemnly presiding, and he turned to a friend who sat beside him, and plucked at his sleeve. "See there!" he whispered; "there sits Mayne, risen by his gravity, and here sits Keller, sunk by his levity. What would Sir Isaac Newton say to that I'd like to know?"

Millions For Defense.

Against the inroads of that subtle, lurking foe to human health, malaria, had been expended uselessly when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters appeared upon the scene and demonstrated its power as a preventive and curative of the dreaded scourge. When the "gold fever" raged in 1849 in California, malaria was contemporaneous with it at the diggings, and wrought dreadful havoc among the miners. Then and subsequently on the Isthmus of Panama, and wherever in the tropics malarial disease is most virulent, the Bitters become recognized safeguards. For the effect of exposure and fatigue, miasmata, poison, d air and water, sea sickness and all disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, the Bitters affords prompt relief. Invalids of all sorts will find it fully adequate to their needs.

Scoffing at the Watermelon.

Why is it that there is every year so great an outburst of melody (alleged) about the watermelon? What is the watermelon that it should be thus celebrated? It cannot hold a candle to the cantaloupe either for flavor or harmlessness. The great army of watermelon poets is calculated to make one tired. As a promoter of joy the watermelon is two-thirds a bluff, with the other third a sticky juice that pleases neither palate nor stomach. Relegate yourselves to the rear, versemiths who use the watermelon as a foundation for your rhymed vaporings! You give one a pain, and so does your watermelon.

A NOBLE GIFT

PLACED IN A DAUGHTER'S HANDS

In Order That a Life's Work May Be Perpetuated.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

It was an eventful day.

One of the noblest women of the age felt the weight of years upon her.

Her whole life had been given to one grand work, and her name was known throughout the civilized world.

Before her was a younger woman, and they were seated in the great "record room," where were stored many women's stories of sorrow and joy.

Letters by the thousands, together with great books of record, containing the important points of advice and treatment in special cases, were all about them.

The elder woman turned over the leaves and read:—

"I was sorely afflicted with chronic inflammation of the womb . . . I am now well."

Turning over another page she read:—

"They said I was consumptive, and sent me away . . . But you opened my eyes to the truth, and through you I am well."

Another page and:—

" . . . Your remedy came to me with hope, then the truth dawned upon me. You saved my life, and I bless you continually."

Then the book was closed and placed in the hands of the younger woman.

"These are the records of my victories over the peculiar diseases of women. They give the history of each case, and how it was treated."

"I am growing old. Some day I must give up the effort, and I bequeath to you my life work for the physical salvation of women. Carry it forward that all may be cured."

The elder woman was Lydia E. Pinkham. The younger was her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Pinkham, the one woman fully equipped to carry out the requirements of this noble legacy, not only by natural endowments, but from her knowledge through constant study and years of experience in assisting her mother in her voluminous correspondence and personal treatment of woman's diseases.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will redeem women from the fearful consequences of all diseases of the womb. All druggists have it for you.

BROWN BROS. & LINCOLN.

THE "TENDERFOOT'S" FRIEND.

"The Choice of Japan."

Is a Tea that has no equal in any 50 cent tea in the market. It is pure, uncolored and much better than some Japan teas which we might name that are now being offered to the public.

35c a Pound, 3 Pounds for $1.

Buy no other until you have tried this. We just received it. Had hard work to get it so as to sell for 35c a pound or 3 pounds for one dollar. We will put it against any 50c tea in the market, unless perhaps it is our famous which we are giving Silverware away with. We have the only GENUINE Monarch Tea in Janesville. Some tea resembles the Monarch very much and if a person is not a good judge, in fact an expert, they will get fooled, and think they have the Monarch. Come to us for the Genuine Monarch Tea for 50c a pound, and the "Choice of Japan" for 35 cents a pound or three pound for $1. DUNN BROS., 127 MILWAUKEE ST.

The Sutherland Sanitarium.

Corner North Main and North First Streets, Janesville, Wis.

The Credit of Selling The Handsomest Clothes In The City.

That's what we're getting for our pains in spending so much skill making a $3 suit fit as good as $15. It's a comfort to sell our Boys' Clothing. More freshness in fashion, more surprises in price than we ever knew in a single season.

Just a Bird's Eye View.

That boy of yours $3 and $3½ suit now, you'd have paid $5 cheerfully a few months ago; $4½, $5, $6, Double Breasted Reefers, bang-up, warm, the Eatons, Zouaves,---names aren't pictures. See these, NEXT—The Bright New Long Sack. They give the young fellow the bank-man's air. Always looks as if it was 4 o'clock Milwaukee Ave., time.

$10 to $15

FOR Elegant New Browns.

There's no way to compare our $6.75 Men's Suits, solid value, all wool, got up good, no skimping. Good every way as last years $12. Suits, $8.50, $10, $12. Still better, much better.

Its a mistake not to own a Fall Overcoat, with overcoats where they are now.

Last Year's $10 Overcoat we match for $5.

Last Year's $12 Overcoat we match for $6.

Last Year's $15 Overcoats we match for $8 50.

Suppose you want your suit tailored? Well, we can show you the finest English and American makes of cloth. All prices this season a number of dollars below any former year for qualities as good.

Removal Sale

Still Continues.

The term "Removal Sale" means nothing to the public unless backed right up with Good Merchandise at attractive BARGAIN PRICES.

We are offering hundreds of items in our store at prices so low that the careful, prudent, economical buyers are certainly finding it out. You know we are selling goods cheap. We know it, and the more you help us swell our business, the cheaper we can sell stuff. Our aim is to create a big business and keep it growing larger and larger by untiring efforts to do you all good in a business way. You may call it reciprocity or what you will, but we tell you squarely if you will continue building up our business the way you are doing, we will keep cutting lower and lower our per cent of profit giving you all the benefit. We are selling

Lowell Ingrain Carpets at 49c worth 65c.

5 Frame Body Brussels at 85c worth $1.25.

Lowell 3 Ply Ingrains at 72c worth 85c.

All Carpets at Wholesale Cost.

We have just opened three cases.

90 Pcs Beautiful Outing Flannel at 5 1-2c.

Three more cases of those large heavy

Cotton Blankets at 50c per pair.

We are selling 50c Dress Goods at 33 1-3c.

$1 Henriettas at 79c.

We want to make this month the Banner Business month and shall offer many lines of merchandise at the lowest figures ever before mentioned in this city.
